Published six times a year to inform persons with intellectual and developmental disabilities, their families and the community about intellectual disability services in Lehigh and Northampton Counties.

Dear Families, Friends and Colleagues:

Summer is here and it is always a good idea to consider ways to have a safe, happy and healthy season. As people become more active in the summer months, being safe takes on some new dimensions.

Take a moment to think before outdoor summer fun:

- ◆ When outside during the day, wear sunscreen and a hat. Be on the lookout for shade.
- ◆ Encourage people to drink water or some kind of sports drink when they are outside in the hot sun.
- ◆ Wear light-colored, lightweight clothing— limited to one layer of absorbent material to allow evaporation of sweat.
- ◆ Pay attention to food and environmental allergies. Take emergency medications when you think you need them.
- ◆ Don't use scented soaps, perfumes or hair sprays so you don't attract insects.
- ◆ Use insect repellents containing DEET when needed to prevent bites from insects like ticks (which can transmit Lyme Disease) and mosquitoes (which can transmit West Nile and other viruses).

COVID-19 precautions:

The PA Department of health continues to recommend precautions related to the spread of COVID-19. Recommendations include getting vaccinated and getting a booster shot when they are available. Vaccines are now available for anyone age 5 and over. As of May 20, 2022, the Pfizer -BioNTech COVID-19 vaccine is the only vaccine authorized or approved for children ages 5 through 17 years. Children and teens need two doses of a Pfizer-BioNTech vaccine. The CDC recommends everyone ages 5 years and older should also get a booster shot.

Wearing a mask in public is generally not required in many places; the Department of Health continues recommending them. Hospitals and other health care providers continue requiring masks be worn; so don't leave yours at home.

Frequent handwashing, cleaning and disinfecting surfaces that are frequently touched (phones, tablets and keyboards, etc.) remain good practices. If possible keeping a safe distance from other people might help you.

Updated information on state and federal responses to COVID-19 can be found by visiting www.health.pa.gov and www.cdc.gov.

I hope you find this useful.

THE COMMUNITY OF PRACTICE
FOR SUPPORTING FAMILIES OF INDIVIDUALS WITH INTELLECTUAL & DEVELOPMENTAL DISABILITIES

Dedicated to Positive, Systematic Change to Support Families

www.supporttofamilies.org

The Community of Practice for Supporting Families of Individuals with Intellectual & Developmental Disabilities exists to enhance and drive policy, practice, and system transformation to support people with intellectual/developmental disabilities within the context of their families and communities. Nineteen member states are committed to developing systems of support for families throughout the lifespan of people with intellectual and developmental disabilities (I/DD) and their family, and receive technical assistance, products, opportunities for shared learning, and support from a National Team to integrate innovative practices into existing and ongoing state systems change efforts.

What began as a five year grant (awarded by the Administration on Intellectual and Developmental Disabilities (AIDD) in October 2012), with six original state members has continued to expand and now includes nineteen state teams. Teams are comprised of both public state agencies and grassroots stakeholders from each state, who are individually and collectively influencing and supporting sustainable transformation to support good lives for people with disabilities and their families.

A Community of Practice (CoP) is a group that comes together to learn from one another and to develop and implement strategies towards a common practice. The strategies Pennsylvania ODP is using to reach all people are threefold:

1. Partnership with Self Advocates United as One \(SAU1\) to provide training and supports to persons with IDD/A
2. Partnership with PA Family Network for training and mentoring of family members of a person with an intellectual or developmental disability or autism (IDD/A); and
3. ODP offering Regional leadership with community partners in the form of Regional Collaboratives (scroll down to access the interactive map)

Thus, we are embracing the broad and rich diversity that defines Pennsylvania's character: diversity in geography, demographics, cultures and ethnicity, history and traditions, and local identity.

The Fiscal Year \(FY\) 2021-2022 Workplan reflects ongoing efforts as well as areas of focus for new or enhanced activities for the FY. A webinar is available here if you would like to hear about the purpose of the workplan, how to find what you are looking for in the workplan, and a few highlighted new activities.

For more information on Pennsylvania's involvement in the national Community of Practice, to learn how you can be involved, or to request training for your organization or staff, contact Candida Walton at cawalton@pa.gov or call 717-439-5278.

You can also request to be added to the ListServ to receive communications about the Supporting Families Initiative and efforts across the state by using this link: <http://listserv.dpw.state.pa.us/Scripts/wa.exe?SUBED1=odp-supporting-families-cop&A=1> or by emailing a request to cawalton@pa.gov.

Spirit Club Fitness

SPIRIT Club is a supportive virtual exercise platform. The club works with individuals and organizations around the country to help make sure that fitness is accessible to EVERYONE. When the pandemic hit, the club transitioned services from primarily in-person to primarily virtual.
